The findings, conclusions and sanctions set forth in this Order are those stated in the Offer as accepted by the Complainant and approved by the NAC.

Under the terms of the Offer, Respondents have consented, without admitting or denying the allegations of the Complaint, and solely for the purposes of this proceeding and any other proceeding brought by or on behalf of FINRA, or to which FINRA is a party, to the entry of findings and violations consistent with the allegations of the Complaint, and to the imposition of the sanctions set forth below, and fully understand that this Order will become part of Respondents' permanent disciplinary records and may be considered in any future actions brought by FINRA.

BACKGROUND

Bentley-Lawrence Securities, Inc. has been a registered broker-dealer with FINRA since 1983 and employed approximately 25 registered representatives at the end of the third quarter of 2009. Based on Bentley-Lawrence's current registration, it is subject to FINRA's jurisdiction, pursuant to Article IV of the Association's By-Laws.

Richard Coskey has been registered with FINRA since 1957. He has been a registered principal with Bentley-Lawrence since 1987 and is currently employed in that capacity. He is also the firm's President, Chief Compliance Officer and majority owner. Based upon Coskey's current registration, he is subject to FINRA's jurisdiction, pursuant to Article V Section 4 of the Association's By-Laws.

SUMMARY

1. In 2006, Mark Harper, a registered representative of Bentley-Lawrence Securities, Inc., effected unsuitable mutual fund "switches" in at least nine accounts belonging to eight members of the public who were customers of Bentley-Lawrence, some of whom were either elderly or in retirement. Harper effected 26 to 84 mutual fund trades per account, for a total of 441 mutual fund A-share transactions. In many instances, Harper effected the purchase, sale and repurchase of the same fund. All told, the mutual fund transactions generated mutual fund charges and fees in excess of $178,000.

2. Most trades that Harper effected in these nine accounts were done on a discretionary basis, although Harper did not have written approval from his customers or his firm to utilize discretion.

3. Bentley-Lawrence, acting through Harper's direct supervisor, Richard Coskey, the firm's Chief Compliance Officer, President and 95% owner, failed to reasonably supervise Harper and failed to implement adequate procedures and systems to prevent unsuitable mutual fund switching.

4. In addition, Bentley-Lawrence, acting through Coskey, failed to report to FINRA a settlement with one of Harper's customers, and Harper did not timely report the settlement on his Form U4.

FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS

It has been determined that the Offer be accepted and that findings be made as follows:²

² The findings herein are pursuant to Respondents Bentley-Lawrence Securities, Inc. and Richard Coskey's Offer of Settlement and are not binding on any other person, namely Mark Harper, named as a respondent in this or any other proceeding.

FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION
UNSUITABLE MUTUAL FUND SWITCHING
(CUSTOMERS SR AND BR)
(Violations of NASD Conduct Rules 2110, 2310 and IM-2310-2)

5. During the relevant time period, NASD Conduct Rule 2310 required that, before making a recommendation to a customer, a representative "shall have reasonable grounds for believing that the recommendation is suitable for such customer upon the basis of the facts, if any, disclosed by such customer as to his other security holdings and as to his financial situation and needs." IM-2310-2(3) further developed this rule by stating that mutual funds are not generally proper trading vehicles, and stating that trading mutual funds, particularly on a short-term basis, "on its face may raise the question of Rule violation."

6. From approximately January 1, 2006 through December 31, 2006, Harper engaged in a pattern of mutual fund switching that included approximately 72 purchase or sale transactions in the joint account of 66 year-old SR and 68 year-old BR, members of the public who were Bentley-Lawrence customers, without having reasonable grounds for believing that such transactions were suitable for those customers, in view of the nature of the recommended transactions, and in light of the customers' financial situation, investment objectives, circumstances and needs.

7. The mutual fund transactions that Harper executed in the joint account of SR and BR, a married couple, during 2006, were held in SR and BR's account for an average of just 76.88 days. The trading had an annualized turnover ratio of 3.28 and a cost-equity factor of approximately 13.61%, and included the purchases, sales, and re-purchases of A-shares in the same mutual funds. For instance, Harper effected the following purchases and sales within the same mutual fund:

8/17/2006	Sell	5031.133	$5.61	KAUAX	$28,224.66

8. As a result of all of the mutual fund switch transactions effected by Harper, SR and BR were assessed mutual fund charges and fees during 2006 that totaled $23,372.
