COMPLAINT

Upon information and belief, Complainant alleges the following:

1. Respondent John J. Stapleton ("Stapleton") became registered with NASD as a Series 7 general securities representative on or about September 12, 1996.
2. From on or about July 15, 1996, through on or about January 27, 2004, Stapleton was associated with Continental Broker-Dealer Corp. ("Continental"), which was a NASD member firm from on or about November 9, 1983, until it was expelled from membership on or about May 6, 2004.
3. On or about January 29, 2004, Continental filed a Form U5 on behalf of Stapleton terminating his employment as January 27, 2004.
4. From on or about January 16, 2004, through on or about November 29, 2004, Stapleton was associated with LH Ross & Company, Inc. ("LH Ross"), which was a NASD member firm from on or about September 15, 1995, until it was expelled from membership on or about March 17, 2005.
5. On or about December 17, 2004, LH Ross filed a Form U5 on behalf of Stapleton terminating his employment as of November 29, 2004.

6. Stapleton is currently registered with NASD through GunnAllen Financial, Inc., an NASD member firm. Accordingly, Stapleton is subject to NASD's jurisdiction.

FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION

STAPLETON'S CHURNING IN CUSTOMER JD'S ACCOUNT Violations of Section 10(b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and Rule 10b-5 thereunder, NASD Conduct Rules 2120 and 2110 and IM-2310-2

7. Paragraphs 1 through 6 are realleged and are incorporated by reference herein.

8. In or about August 2002, customer JD received an unsolicited telephone call from Stapleton and agreed to open a securities brokerage account [REDACTED] at Continental.

9. Stapleton served as JD's account executive from in or about August 2002 through in or about June 2003.

10. When JD opened his account at Continental, he was thirty-six years old and self-employed as the owner of a meat packing business. In addition, JD had an annual income of approximately $70,000 and a liquid net worth of approximately $500,000.

11. Prior to opening this account, JD investment experience was quite limited and he had never utilized options or margin.

12. JD funded this account with several cash deposits totaling approximately $512,356.

13. When JD opened this account he was interested in growth with minimal risk.

14. While Stapleton served as his account executive, JD relied on Stapleton to make appropriate investment decisions in JD's account.

15. From in or about August 2002 through in or about June 2003, Stapleton, while exercising effective control over customer JD's account, effected or caused to be effected approximately 815 purchases and sale transactions in JD's account as more fully detailed in Schedule A attached to this Complaint and incorporated herein by reference.

16. The transactions referred to in paragraph 15 above were excessive, costing a total of approximately $3.6 million, while the average monthly equity in the account was approximately $245,086.

17. Stapleton's trading activity in JD's account, from in or about August 2002 through in or about June 2003, generated an annualized Cost-to-Equity Ratio (converted to a percentage) of approximately 83%, an annualized Commission-to-Equity Ratio (converted to a percentage) of approximately 78% and an annualized Turnover Ratio of approximately 16. Accordingly, JD's account would have had to earn, annually, nearly an 83% return just to break even.

18. Between August 2002 and June 2003, JD paid approximately $175,149 in commissions and approximately $11,093 in margin interest, while sustaining losses of approximately $237,402.

19. As part of this course of conduct, Stapleton, in connection with the purchase or sale of securities, directly or indirectly, by the use of the means or instrumentalities of interstate commerce, or of the mails, or of any facility of any national securities exchange, knowingly or recklessly: employed devices, schemes or artifices to defraud; made untrue statements of material facts or omitted to state material facts necessary in order to make the statements made, in the light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading; engaged in acts, practices, or courses of business which operated or would operate as a fraud or deceit upon any person; or effected transactions in, or induced the purchase or sale of, any security by means of any manipulative, deceptive or other fraudulent device or contrivance.

20. By reason of the foregoing, Stapleton violated Section 10(b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and Rule 10b-5 thereunder, NASD Conduct Rules 2120 and 2110 and IM-2310-2.

SECOND CAUSE OF ACTION

STAPLETON'S EXCESSIVE TRADING/SUITABILITY VIOLATIONS IN CUSTOMER JD'S ACCOUNT Violations of NASD Conduct Rules 2310, 2860(b)(19) and 2110 and IM-2310-2

21. Paragraphs 1 through 20 are realleged and are incorporated by reference herein.

22. From in or about August 2002 through in or about June 2003, Stapleton, while exercising effective control over customer JD's account [REDACTED] recommended to JD approximately 815 securities transactions involving equities and options, as more fully detailed on Schedule A attached hereto and incorporated herein by reference, without having reasonable grounds for believing that such transactions were suitable for JD in view of the size and frequency of the transactions, the nature of the account and his financial situation, investment objectives and needs.

23. The transactions referred to in paragraph 22 above were excessive, costing a total of approximately $3.6 million, while the average monthly equity in the account was approximately $245,086.

24. Stapleton's trading activity in JD's account, from in or about August 2002 through in or about June 2003, generated an annualized Cost-to-Equity Ratio (converted to a percentage) of approximately 83%, an annualized Commission-to-Equity Ratio (converted to a percentage) of approximately 78% and an annualized Turnover Ratio of approximately 16. Accordingly, JD's account would have had to earn, annually, nearly an 83% return just to break even.

25. Between August 2002 and June 2003, JD paid approximately $175,149 in commissions, while sustaining losses of approximately $237,402.

26. Many of the transactions referred to in paragraph 22 above were effected through the use of margin and resulted in JD incurring additional costs of approximately $11,093 in margin interest. In fact, on June 30, 2003, this account had a margin balance of approximately $432,192 while the account's equity that month was approximately $199,543.

27. The margin utilized by Stapleton in JD's accounts was unsuitable for JD in view of the size and the nature of the account and JD's financial situation and needs.

28. By reason of the foregoing, Stapleton violated NASD Conduct Rules 2310, 2860(b)(19) and 2110 and IM-2310-2.

THIRD CAUSE OF ACTION

STAPLETON'S CHURNING IN CUSTOMER GP'S ACCOUNT Violations of Section 10(b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and Rule 10b-5 thereunder, NASD Conduct Rules 2120 and 2110 and IM-2310-2

29. Paragraphs 1 through 28 are realleged and are incorporated by reference herein.

30. In or about March 2002, customer GP received an unsolicited telephone call from Stapleton and agreed to open a securities brokerage account [REDACTED] at Continental.

31. Stapleton served as GP's account executive from in or about March 2002 through in or about July 2002.

32. When GP opened his account at Continental, he was sixty-three years old, married and self-employed as the owner of a hardware store. In addition, GP had an annual income of approximately $90,000 and a liquid net worth which was less than $50,000.

33. Prior to opening this account, GP's investment experience was quite limited and he had never invested in equities and had not utilized options or margin.

34. GP funded this account with several cash deposits totaling approximately $62,916.

35. When GP opened this account he sought to preserve his funds and increase his assets.

36. While Stapleton served as his account executive, GP relied on Stapleton to make appropriate investment decisions in GP's account.

37. From in or about March 2002 through in or about July 2002, Stapleton, while exercising effective control over customer GP's account, effected or caused to be effected approximately 180 purchases and sale transactions in GP's account as more fully detailed in Schedule B attached to this Complaint and incorporated herein by reference.

38. The transactions referred to in paragraph 37 above were excessive, costing a total of approximately $364,755, while the average monthly equity in the account was approximately $36,394.

39. Stapleton's trading activity in GP's account from in or about March 2002 through in or about July 2002, generated an annualized Cost-to-Equity Ratio (converted to a percentage) of approximately 393%, an annualized Commission-to-Equity Ratio (converted to a percentage) of approximately 384% and an annualized Turnover Ratio of approximately 59. Accordingly, GP's account would have had to earn, annually, nearly a 393% return just to break even.

40. Between March 2002 and July 2002, GP paid approximately $23,684 in commissions and approximately $599 in margin interest, while sustaining losses of approximately $62,103. Accordingly, GP lost virtually his entire investment.

41. As part of this course of conduct, Stapleton, in connection with the purchase or sale of securities, directly or indirectly, by the use of the means or instrumentalities of interstate commerce, or of the mails, or of any facility of any national securities exchange, knowingly or recklessly: employed devices, schemes or artifices to defraud; made untrue statements of material facts or omitted to state material facts necessary in order to make the statements made, in the light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading; engaged in acts, practices, or courses of business which operated or would operate as a fraud or deceit upon any person; or effected transactions in, or induced the purchase or sale of, any security by means of any manipulative, deceptive or other fraudulent device or contrivance.

42. By reason of the foregoing, Stapleton violated Section 10(b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and Rule 10b-5 thereunder, NASD Conduct Rules 2120 and 2110 and IM-2310-2.

FOURTH CAUSE OF ACTION

STAPLETON'S EXCESSIVE TRADING/SUITABILITY VIOLATIONS IN CUSTOMER GP'S ACCOUNT Violations of NASD Conduct Rules 2310, 2860(b)(19) and 2110 and IM-2310-2

43. Paragraphs 1 through 42 are realleged and are incorporated by reference herein.

44. From in or about March 2002 through in or about July 2002, Stapleton, while exercising effective control over customer GP's account [REDACTED] recommended to GP approximately 180 securities transactions involving equities and options, as more fully detailed on Schedule B attached hereto and incorporated herein by reference, without having reasonable grounds for believing that such transactions were suitable for GP in view of the size and frequency of the transactions, the nature of the account and his financial situation, investment objectives and needs.

45. The transactions referred to in paragraph 44 above were excessive, costing a total of approximately $364,755, while the average monthly equity in the account was approximately $36,394.

46. Stapleton's trading activity in GP's account from in or about March 2002 through in or about July 2002, generated an annualized Cost-to-Equity Ratio (converted to a percentage) of approximately 393%, an annualized Commission-to-Equity Ratio (converted to a percentage) of approximately 384% and an annualized Turnover Ratio of approximately 59. Accordingly, GP's account would have had to earn, annually, nearly a 393% return just to break even.

47. Between March 2002 and July 2002, GP paid approximately $23,684 in commissions, while sustaining losses of approximately $62,103.

48. Many of the transactions referred to in paragraph 44 above, were effected through the use of margin and resulted in GP incurring additional costs of approximately $599 in margin interest. In fact, on May 31, 2002, this account had a margin balance of approximately $72,062 while the account's equity that month was approximately $36,394.

49. The margin utilized by Stapleton in GP's accounts was unsuitable for GP in view of the size and the nature of the account and GP's financial situation and needs.

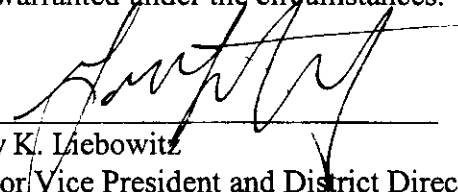

50. By reason of the foregoing, Stapleton violated NASD Conduct Rules 2310, 2860(b)(19) and 2110 and IM-2310-2.
